

Problem Statement

Students often struggle with the issue of being able to conveniently locate all the resources that is provided to them for free. Such things include not only school provided resources, but also publicly provided promos, discounts, and giveaways for college students.